Discharge of Servicemen

Beginning just after the 7 September 1955 Minister of Defense Order No 150, providing for the call-up and discharge of servicemen, the Soviet press has carried numerous articles concerning the discharge of servicemen and the arrangements being made for their reception in industry and agriculture.

Krasnaya Zvezda for 10 September 1955 and other newspapers published the following announcement:

"Factory-plant schools (FZO) and mining industry schools are now accepting servicemen -- sergeants, soldiers, and sailors -- discharged into the reserve from the Soviet Army and Navy.

"...the length of training in these schools is 6 months.

"Those admitted to Labor Reserves schools from among the discharges will be paid a lump sum of 200 rubles and a stipend of 100 rubles during the first 2 months of study. They will also be paid for the work performed while training, and are entitled to free board, [dormitory] lodging, and uniforms.

"Those finishing the schools will be assigned to work according to their specialties at enterprises and construction [sites]. Servicemen will be given [by various ministries] a 10,000-ruble loan for the construction of individual living quarters. This loan is to be paid back over a period of 7 years. These ministries will also make loans for establishing households [by discharges], and will pay expenses for transporting members of the man's family to the new place of work."

The campaign to get discharged servicemen into certain industries, especially mining, forestry, and construction, is apparently being conducted in military units where men are being released. The secretary of a Komsomol organization of a military unit wrote in Komsomol'skaya Pravda, 29 September 1955, that many men soon to be discharged in his unit are going to work in the mines of the Podmoskov'ya [Moscow] area. This correspondent also added that "the number of discharges grows daily."

50X1-HUM

Pravda, 6 October 1955, carried a photograph of newly discharged servicemen of the Kiev Military District who were going to work in the Donbass. According to Krasnaya Zvezda, 23 September 1955, a group of miners from the city of Artem visited the cruiser Kalinin, and [as a result of the visit] several members of the Kalinin's crew who are soon to be discharged have decided "to take up the profession of miner."

In none of these articles have figures on the number of men being discharged been given, nor has the Soviet press in general given any such figures on armed forces reductions other than the very general "640,000" announced previously.
